Lebanese Fight Shifts

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Right-wing Christians were reported shifting their forces toward leftist position in mountains near Beirut today. A Christian radio hinted they may eventually try to capture the northern port of Tripoli, Lebanon's second-largest city.

Two days after the conquest of the Tal Zaatar Palestinian camp, leftist sources said Christian militias were regrouping around the stronghold of Aintoura in preparation for clearing Moslem and Palestinian forces from Christian mountain areas, leftist sources said.

Much of the mountain area already is controlled by Syrian forces who intervened in the civil war on the side of Christian militias.

"If shifted to the mountain area, our vast fighting potential and reserve forces can easily topple the last Palestinian stronghold in Lebanon.

"And if these forces are moved northward, we certainly can draw new geographical lines for Lebanon, running beyond Tripoli," the Christian Phalange radio said in a news analysis.

The Christians now control an 800-square-mile enclave running north along the coast from Beirut to just south of Tripoli. Leftist Moslems and Palestinians hold Tripoli and a small coastal area around it, in addition to the southern coast and southeastern Lebanon. Syrian forces control inland areas and most of eastern Lebanon, totaling about two-thirds of the country.

The right-wing move toward Aintoura appeared aimed at tightening control of mountain resort towns east of Beirut on the edge of the Christian enclave. The fall of Tal Zaatar removed the last Moslem stronghold inside the enclave.

The loss of Tal Zaatar, where Palestinian officials estimated more than 3,000 persons died during a seven-week siege, was the worst leftist defeat since the civil war began in April 1975.

Leftist spokesmen said Christian strategy in the mountains reflected their design to partition Lebanon.

Phalange party head Pierre Gemayel proposed "some sort of decentralized administration in Moslem and Christian areas, to avert outright partition," but leftists insisted he was "drumming up partition."

Gemayel's aides said he had in mind a cantonization plan, similar to that used by Switzerland, to eliminate Moslem-Christian sensitivities and yet keep Christian areas free of armed Palestinian presence.

Jumblatt said he was organizing a "popular army" and a new administration in Moslem west Beirut to "counter partition plans" by the Christian side.

Syria sharply restricted passage across its border Friday, causing massive traffic jams on both sides. The Syrian interior minister said anyone crossing the border, the only land route into Lebanon, would have to get passes from competent authorities.

Cincy Water Dangers Investigated

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mayor Bobbie Sterne has called for a reevaluation of Cincinnati drinking water safety in the light of new information and continuing division of official opinion concerning the city's high cancer rate death.

University of Cincinnati disease researcher, in a second study of the situation, said persons drinking water taken from surface water like the Ohio River have a slightly higher cancer rate than those getting water from underground sources like wells.

The earlier report indicated Cincinnati's water was safe but not free of worrisome substances.

Waterworks Superintendent Charles M. Bolton said Buncher's new data "definitely does not contradict" the earlier report.

Acting Cincinnati Health Commissioner Dr. Nicholas Anthony said there is need by Buncher to repeat some of the tests conducted by Buncher's graduate assistants. He said he has doubts about some of the methods used in the survey. Anthony said he would withhold comment until further definition of such things as what constitutes ground and surface water. He said data in the survey made it hard to differentiate in some areas.

Bolton, meanwhile, reported the Cincinnati Waterworks is nine months ahead of other cities in eliminating some cancer-causing agents like chloroform from drinking water.

REBUILDING ATWATER AVE. — The Van Camp Contracting Company will be rebuilding Atwater Ave., installing new pavement, curbs, gutters, sidewalks, relocating catch basins to tie in with the existing storm sewer, and widening portions. The cost will be about $85,000 and the project will take about five weeks to complete. Traffic will not be allowed, according to Van Camp foreman John Owens. When completed, the section from Wilson Ave. to Cedar Heights Road will be the same width as Atwater south. The northern section will be about seven to eight feet narrower continuing to Morris Road. In addition, workmen will widen the pavement on the 90 degree turn onto Morris Road. Future plans call for extending Atwater Ave. so that it will exit near Dunkle Road. Here, Owens and Joe Baldwin work to extend a catch basin.

Deaths Reported At Nursing Home

BOYNTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Four deaths at a nursing home may have been caused by an affliction as common as a summer cold, health officials said today. But the illness which has stricken 20 others at the home here on South Florida's Gold Coast has not been diagnosed.

After the deaths Thursday and Friday at the Boulevard Manor Nursing Home, the 91-patient facility was quarantined and the ill residents were isolated. Medical teams rushed from the home to laboratories in Jacksonville, West Palm Beach and Atlanta with blood and urine samples, throat swabs and X rays.

Health officials said that the symptoms of the disease — high temperatures, lethargy, sore throats and coughing — were too general to point to any specific illness. They said it might be days before test results establish what disease is involved.

"It's entirely possible that it's something as simple as a cold," said chief state virologist Elsie E. Buff.

Officials also said they doubt there is a connection between the illness and the mysterious "legionnaires' disease" that caused 24 deaths after a recent American Legion convention in Philadelphia.

Dr. James Howell, assistant director of the Palm Beach County preventive medicine department, said the symptoms resembled swine flu, but he emphasized that "one virus is no better guess than any other at this point."

Dr. David J. Sencer of the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, said, "We have no reason to believe this is infectious, but we've been asked to investigate and we are."

"We first have to rule out heat exhaustion," he said.

Howell said the home's air-conditioning system had been working poorly for two months, and that a sanitarian was investigating whether the sweltering rooms might have helped a virus to spread through the residents.

Doctors monitored the vital signs of all residents every four hours. Two aides who were stricken were sent home Thursday.

The dead were identified as Marion Wallace, 75, of Delray Beach; Claude Ross, 69, and Clarissa Richardson, 73, both of Boynton Beach; and Emily Smith, 83.

It was the second outbreak of illness at the nursing home in six months. In March, 19 people were ill with high fevers in what doctors called a flu outbreak. All survived.

Earlier this year, an outbreak of flu hit a nursing home in St. Petersburg, killing 28 patients.

ROUNDTOWN

THE Shrine-K of C Picnic begins at 5 p.m. today.

ELECTRICAL service was restored in Ashville about 8 a.m., but surrounding areas were without power much of Saturday morning.

Part of the power was lost about 2:30 a.m. when lightning from a severe thunderstorm struck the Ashville Sub Station of the South Central Power Company.

Two more power failures resulted in a total blackout, however. The first came at 5:04 a.m., and the second at 6:02 a.m. when the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department were told that the sub station "exploded."

FBI Section Chief Guilty Of Corruption

WASHINGTON (AP) — An FBI section chief is awaiting sentencing after becoming the first bureau official in history to plead guilty to a criminal charge of corruption.

John P. Dunphy entered the guilty plea Friday as part of an agreement with Justice Department prosecutors involved in a broad probe of alleged financial corruption and other abuses of power within the FBI. Dunphy was fired from the bureau Thursday.

Department spokesman Robert Havel declined to discuss other terms of the plea bargain. Normally, plea bargaining involves an agreement by the defendant to testify against others involved in wrongdoing in exchange for being charged with a lesser crime.

Dunphy, who was paid $37,800 a year by the bureau, confessed to stealing about $100 worth of lumber and other materials from the FBI. The specific charge was converting government property to his own use. He faces up to one year in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Havel said Dunphy is believed to be the first bureau official in FBI history to be convicted of a criminal charge stemming from his job.

A 28-year FBI veteran, Dunphy for the past several years has been chief of the exhibits section, which builds displays for the public tour of the FBI building. The unit also constructs scale models of crime scenes and builds other displays for use in court trials.

An FBI spokesman said Dunphy's "resignation was requested Thursday and accepted as a result of an internal FBI investigation."

End Near For Instant Lottery

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio Lottery Commission says it will stop selling tickets for the highly successful instant lottery game as of Aug. 24.

Lottery Director Gerald Patronite said Friday some sales agents already have exhausted supplies of the instant tickets. Patronite said there was no way to avoid shortages in some areas as the game drew towards conclusion.

The instant game has boosted Ohio into the number one spot among the nation's lottery states in ticket sales for the past eight weeks, Patronite said, with total sales topping $45 million.

Of that, $20 million went to prize winners and more than $18 million to the state treasury, Patronite reported.

"For eight straight weeks," the director said, "Ohio has led the nation, both in volume and in per capita sales. 'We've come a long way—from next to last to first is good. Ohio's is a young lottery, and we've matured faster than expectations.'"

The state lottery is two years old this month.

Patronite warned that holders of instant tickets qualifying contestants for the millionaire jackpot will have to file with the lottery commission by Sept. 20 to get into the millionaire drawing.

Any qualifying tickets which are not filed by that date will receive only the minimum jackpot prize of $15,000, Patronite said.

Former Resident Is Author Of Book Of Poetry

A book of poetry recently published by Loretta Smith Brown has been received by the Herald Newsroom for review. We have found that Mrs. Brown grew up and was educated here in Circleville. Her mother, Ethel D. Smith to whom the book is dedicated is still a resident. Mrs. Smith, now 84, resides at 321 E. Ohio St. with her son Kenneth.

Several of the author's poems are dedicated to her family members. Two of the most interesting are "Physician, Heal Me More" in memory of her father, Dr. Walter Jerome Smith, and "Youth Dedication" a tribute to her brother, Kenneth O. Smith.

Mrs. Brown received her bachelor of arts degree from Wilberforce University and a major in music theory and has written and published one musical composition. She now makes her home in Los Angeles, Calif.

"A Pageant of Poems" is her first literary publication and was published by Vantage Press, Inc. of New York.

The Dunphy case marked the first criminal charge to emerge from the financial corruption probe that began last spring, and there were signs that the other major department investigation of FBI misconduct also was moving toward criminal charges.

It was disclosed Friday that the department has granted immunity from prosecution to some FBI agents who have agreed to testify against colleagues involved in burglaries.

Assistant Atty. Gen. J. Stanley Pottinger, through a spokesman, said he is "in the process of authorizing immunity for some agents."

Department sources have confirmed that the probe directly involves at least 30 agents or officials and indirectly involves dozens more.

FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley has said many agents and officials fear they may be indicted or disciplined as a result of the probe.

Department officials have tentatively decided to seek indictments against some FBI men for violating the civil rights of American citizens by breaking into their homes or offices, sources say.

The FBI acknowledged last year that agents committed hundreds of so-called "bag jobs" against political militants during the 1960s. Kelley said a year ago the practice ended in 1966, but he was forced to correct the statement after discovering that burglaries continued at least through April 1973.

Kelley has said others in the FBI lied to him about the extent of the burglaries but he hasn't yet discovered who deceived him.

A-Plant Operations Curtailed By NRC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nuclear Regulatory Commission says it is sharply curtailing operations at new nuclear power plants and banning further plant construction until it re-evaluates environmental dangers posed by fuel reprocessing and handling of atomic wastes.

While the NRC action will not affect those nuclear plants already producing electricity, it places a moratorium on new construction and limits newly constructed plants to producing only 1 per cent of their capacity.

Those restrictions will be enforced until the study is completed, which is expected to be Sept. 30.

If its study finds that present rules inadequately deal with fuel reprocessing and waste disposal, new regulations will be drafted for the nation's 59 nuclear plants licensed for full operation, an NRC spokesman said.

The action announced Friday by Bernard Rusch, director of the NRC's Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation, is in response to a pair of U.S. Court of Appeals decisions last July 21 saying the commission didn't pay enough attention to environmental issues in granting licenses to plants in Vermont and Michigan.

"The whole area of fuel reprocessing and waste management has been looked at for the last few years, and we have accumulated a lot of information since those cases in 1973 and '74," an NRC spokesman said.

"That's why we think we can compile the information in a relatively short time and come up with the answers—whether or not we need a new set of regulations."

Peter Strauss, NRC general counsel, said during Friday's news briefing that the commission had begun examining its regulations when the court ruled. "We did start the review some time ago, but we didn't start it in the particular form that the court of appeals called for," he said.

The two cases involved an operating the Vermont Yankee Power Corp. plant at Vernon, Vt., and a construction license for Consumer Power Co.'s Midland, Mich., station.

In the Michigan case, the court ordered the NRC also to consider whether energy conservation programs might be an alternative to building a nuclear power plant.

Federal Agents Set Murder Case Entry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI will try to determine whether mobster John Roselli was murdered because of his Senate testimony about CIA plots to kill Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi late Friday "authorized the FBI to enter the Roselli homicide case," said Justice Department spokesman Robert Havel.

Roselli's body was found stuffed in a chain-wrapped oil drum in Biscayne Bay off the Florida coast last weekend.

He had told Senate investigators about his role in a CIA plan to use Mafia figures to assassinate Castro. The plot was never carried out. Levi's decision followed requests from Senate intelligence committee members who urged the department to take over the investigation.

Department attorneys had ruled earlier that the FBI had no jurisdiction because there were no apparent violations of federal law in the slaying of Roselli. Murder is not usually a federal crime.

Levi has now decided to launch the FBI probe under a federal law that makes it a crime to obstruct proceedings before congressional committees, Havel said.

Roselli once was the West Coast lieutenant of Chicago mobster Sam Giancana, who also was involved in the CIA plot against Castro.

Giancana was murdered in his Chicago home in June 1975, just before he was to have been summoned to testify before Senate investigators.

The Giancana murder has never been solved. Because of a lack of federal jurisdiction, the FBI did not investigate that case, although bureau officials maintained a liaison with local authorities.

In ordering the FBI into the Roselli case, Levi instructed the bureau to investigate whether Roselli was killed for what he told the Senate committee and also to examine whether the murder was meant "to prevent future testimony before a committee of Congress," Havel told reporters.

Meantime, Roselli's lawyer discounted the possibility that the murder was linked to recent meetings his client reportedly had with West Coast crime figures.

The attorney, Leslie Scherr, said Roselli at 70 was too old to become involved with the mob again and was trying to be a model citizen to avoid deportation.

Rhodes Requests Assembly Meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes has requested Democratic legislative leaders to arrange a Senate-House session Sept. 14 to hear the governor speak on the subjects of Medicaid and legislation to aid Ohio's inner cities.

But House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, said Friday he would have to confer with Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, before giving Rhodes an answer.

The governor has been at odds with the legislative leaders over how to deal with a $127 million deficit in Medicaid payments, and a spending cut bill proposed by him to deal with the deficit is expected to be killed in the legislature next week.

Weather

Mostly cloudy and cooler today, tonight, and tomorrow, with a chance of showers and thunderstorms. Temperatures should reach the low 80s today, drop to the low 60s tonight, and return to near 80 on Sunday. Chances of rain are 40 per cent today and tonight, and 50 per cent Sunday.

News For Homemakers

By BEVERLY BECHTEL
County Extension Agent,
Home Economics

Several upcoming events should be noted on calendars of those interested. Since we are again planning on Farm Heritage Days, a committee meeting for the women's section will be held on August 23, 10:00 a.m., at the First English Lutheran Church in Ashville. June Timmons and I will be coordinating the women's displays. Anyone interested in participating in the women's section is most welcome to attend this meeting. If you cannot attend the meeting call our Extension Office at 474-7534. I will send you a form for space needs, etc.

The Extension Homemakers' Council will meet at Shawnee Vineyards at 12:30 p.m. on August 25 for a Dutch treat luncheon meeting. A baby sitter will be at the Calvary United Methodist Church at noon. Those who have small children can leave them in the nursery there and go on to the meeting.

On Thursday, August 26, I will be teaching a lesson on Soybean Cookery. The lesson will be at the Calvary United Methodist Church in Circleville, at 1 p.m. Information on soybean harvesting and preparation for table use, a soybean cookbook, and samples of soybean dishes will be presented by myself and Judy Julian.

USDA Seeks Comments On 1977 Programs

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has called for comments on its proposed determinations for the 1977 wheat, feed grains and soybean programs.

The Secretary of Agriculture proposes to make determinations and issue regulations relative to:

The size of the National acreage allotment for feed grains. (In April, USDA announced a 1977 wheat allotment of 62.2 million acres, up from 61.6 million acres for 1976.

Whether there should be a set-aside requirement for wheat and feed grains for the 1977 crop, and if so, the extent of such requirement.

Whether there should be provisions for additional diversions and, if so, the extent of such diversions and the payment rate therefore.

Loan and purchase rates for wheat and feed grains for the 1977 crop, including commodity eligibility and storage requirements.

Whether there should be a loan and purchase program for 1977 crop soybeans and, if so, the loan and purchase level.

Other related provisions necessary to carry out the loan and purchase program and the set aside program.

Prior to making determinations, consideration will be given to any written comments received by the Director, Grains, Oilseeds and Cotton Division, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250, not later than August 30, 1976.

All written submissions will be available for public inspection at the Office of the Director, Room 3741, Agriculture Department's South Building, during regular business hours.

Pork Tour Scheduled

Pork Production Buildings that work - will be a feature of the "76 Southwest Ohio Pork Tour" scheduled for Sept. 11, 12, 13, 14, 15.

Leaving from the Western Research Farm at South Charleston, the tour will include the:

Purdue Swine Building, Leo Bernhard Farm, Elwood, Ill., producing 10,000 head farrow & finish. The Hormel Packing Plant, Austin, Minn., plus their research farm and marketing program.

In addition, tour members will be able to watch (in the afternoon of Sept. 13) "the Grand National" of hog shows - the National Barrow Show. Also in the Chicago, Ill. area the group will tour Allid Mills Research Farm, the Mercantile Exchange and Board of Trade "right down town."

This 5 day Pork Tour is being arranged by the Washington Court House and Eaton Extension Areas - Complete details are available from your County Ext. Office. Deadline is Friday, August 20. Reservations can be made by contacting David B. Gerber, Area Extension Agent, Swine Industry: 317 S. Fayette St., Washington C. H., Ohio: (614) 335-2755.

It's Yellow Jacket Season

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

It's yellow jacket season, and you wouldn't believe the number of people who think yellow jackets and honeybees are one and the same — that is, when they see yellow jackets, they think they are honeybees.

Yellow jacket

Here's a typical conversation entomologists across the country get from callers about this time each year.

"I have a swarm of bees — can I get someone to come get them?" Knowing that honeybee swarms are rare this time of year, you ask . . . Are you sure they are honeybees and not yellow jackets? "Sure, I know a honeybee when I see one." Your turn . . . Where are they located? "Just outside my back door at the base of this tree. They're coming out of a small hole in the ground, and every time I go past them, I get chased in the house. Been stung several times, too."

About this time you begin to realize the caller has mistaken yellow jackets for honeybees. And from past experiences, you know you have to be tactful, even though you are 99 per cent sure they are not honeybees, your caller is looking at them and you're not.

Honey bee

"I sure wouldn't want to see them killed . . . I'd rather have some beekeeper get them," your caller chimes in. So you proceed, tactfully, to explain the difference between yellow jackets and honeybees. Ms. Smith, you're right . . . honeybees look a lot like yellow jackets, especially to people who are not associated with these insects daily. Yellow jackets may build their paper-mache-like nest anywhere — eave of the house, under piles of wood or lumber, in clay banks or in the ground near a tree or other item. Honeybees notably build honey and brood comb in man-made hives, hollow trees, in walls of buildings, and occasionally, on a tree branch out in the open with no protection around the comb. Honeybees rarely bother (or chase) a person passing by and the more gentle strains seldom sting the beekeeper when he makes his annual honey harvest.

Yellow jackets will attack you when you come too close to their nest. These insects have distinctive black and yellow markings on the abdomen and a yellow face. Honeybees have more subtle markings with gold to grey and brown bands on the abdomen. Bands vary in color between species of honeybees but colors are never black and yellow. Honeybees have many more hairs on the body and pollen baskets on their hind legs.

It appears your problem is yellow jackets. Now, to be more accurate, why not watch these insects to see what they are feeding on. Try baiting them with decaying fruit or table scraps. They love hotdogs. If they begin feeding on the bait, you can be reasonably sure they are yellow jackets, as yellow jackets get their protein by feeding on other insects and human foods and their carbohydrates from nectar in flowers. Honeybees get their food from the nectar and pollen of flowers and they store honey for winter feeding.

"Well, maybe they are yellow jackets. . . How do I get rid of them?"

Try chlordane, diazinon (Spectracide), or propoxur (Baygon). To mix a solution, check the container label for amount of insecticide to be used in a gallon of water. Then at night when the yellow jackets have gone in their nest, saturate their nest by pouring the solution in the entrance hole. If one treatment does not do the job, repeat the next night.

Fertilizer Supplies Adequate

World fertilizer supplies are expected to continue adequate and reasonable prices during the months ahead as a result of on-going soft market conditions, Roy Dunkle, chairman of the Pickaway County ASC Committee, reported.

Dunkle said a recent report from the Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service (ERS) shows that international trade prices for major fertilizer products have remained weak, and most have partially stabilized at fairly low levels during the first part of 1976.

"Foreign demand for nitrogen and phosphate is likely to continue weak," Dunkle noted. However, demand by overseas nations would strengthen if their grain prices rise enough to make fertilizer use more profitable.

Also the demand would strengthen if a reduction of the large inventories occurs, particularly in the developing countries that receive two-thirds of the world nitrogen imports and about half of the world phosphate imports.

Dunkle said the estimated world demand is closely balanced, especially for nitrogen, but the situation could change rapidly.

In the years ahead, a recurrence of tight world market for fertilizer seems unlikely. At the same time, world capacity should increase substantially, particularly in nitrogen and phosphate. Current projections show continuing improvement of the world fertilizer supply-demand balance for some time.

Don't Be Half Safe

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

"The green, green grass of home" grows fast after a summer rain, and with it grows the chance for mower accidents.

Each year 55,000 people are treated in hospitals for power lawn mower injuries. About 30 per cent of the injuries result from unsafe acts by the operator, says William Gill, Extension Agricultural Engineer at The Ohio State University. Merely reading the manual and learning how to operate and maintain the mower could head off a lot of injuries, he suggests.

Safety precautions include filling the gasoline tank before beginning to mow. The engine will be cold and will not ignite vapors that settle to the lower parts of a hot engine.

Check the yard for toys, stones, wire and other objects. They can be thrown by the mower as speeds up to 100 miles per hour, seriously injuring or killing someone.

To start a mower with a starter rope, place one foot on the mower and the other one on solid ground. This will prevent the mower from being pulled over your foot.

To mow a slope with a push mower, mow back and forth across the slope. This prevents one's foot going under the mower in case of slippage. With a riding mower, the opposite is recommended. Mow up and down the slope, to keep the mower from upsetting.

Turn off the mower and disconnect the spark plug when checking for blade tightness, removing or sharpening the blade, or unclogging under the deck. Also, never allow passengers on your riding mower.

ALL FARMERS INTERESTED IN RUFF'S SEEDS

are invited to attend Ruff's Seed Farms Day, Friday, August 20, 1976. Our program will be both educational and profitable.

Tours in the morning will consist of Hybrid Seed Corn Plots, Population Stress Wheel, Soybean Variety Plots, Soybean Double Crop Plots, and many more interesting tests.

Afternoon speakers will be a State Agronomist on Corn Production and an Area Extension Agent on Soybean Production.

On July 27 at 7:30, the Busy Honey Bees 4-H Club under the advisement of Betty Hott, Irene Ihrig, and Becky Swartz were all decked out for their annual Mother's Tea. The evening began with Nancy Peck, president, calling the meeting to order and welcoming everyone to the Tea. Then Ellen Evans led us in our pledges and the devotions were given by Sheri Somers. Next on the agenda was the modeling of the clothing projects by the gals. There were a flow of many colors, prints, textures, and styles viewed by the mothers of the following 4-Hers:

Clothing Top to Toe: Brenda and Jennifer Hunt, Carla Pyle, Amanda Smith, Melody Sockman, Missy Somers.

Jumpers: Ellen Evans, Susan Fox, Ginia Keaton.

School Dress I: Sheri Somers.
Sports Clothes I: Dee Ann Hott, Teresa Morris, Sheri Somers.

Lounging: Betsy Day, Dee Ann Hott, Teresa Morris.

Project books and the completed projects of the following were also displayed.

A Redecorated Room: Betsy Day.
Laundry I: Betsy Day.

Creative Arts: Betsy Day, Dee Ann Hott, Teresa Morris.

Pioneer Arts: Dee Ann Hott.
Helping at Home: Karen Conrad, Missy Somers.

Snacking And Packing: Brenda and Jennifer Hunt, Carol Peck, Carla Pyle, Melody Sockman.

Preserve and Serve I: Betsy Day.
House Plants: Nancy Peck.

Dee Ann Hott and Missy Somers who gave safety speeches in the county contest presented their thoughts to the mothers. A team demonstration entitled Shape Up—Trim Down was given by Nancy Peck and Sheri Somers; and an individual demonstration by Dee Ann Hott called Knots-a-Lot on macrame.

Ellen Evans, safety leader, took the floor and presented everyone with some slides concerning storm safety and atomic energy.

For refreshments, the candlelit table was adorned with finger sandwiches, salad, variety of cookies, mints, and punch that was representative of the foods that were in the gals' Snacking

Future Of Farming Is Bright

"With the growing world population and the desire for better diets, new market opportunities are continuously developing for agricultural products," Kenneth E. Frick, head of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), said. "Activities in transportation, processing and exporting are growing," Frick said.

"Obviously if we're going to increase our world population from 4 to 7 billion during the next quarter century, we're talking of needing twice as much food at the turn of the century as we have today. Part of the way in which the world will be able to handle this is through a transfer of our technology to other nations. And this means more agriculturally-trained people. So young people have the opportunity to participate in this if they train themselves well for the job ahead," the USDA official said.

Commenting on the outlook for agriculture from a consumer viewpoint, Frick said that the consumer wishes to be, should be, and is in a position to expect a variety of foods of the highest standards. "I think these standards will continue to be improved as time goes on. The variety will even be increased and every U.S. consumer can look forward to getting his groceries far cheaper than anyone else in the world."

With a nation so able to export, this means that the domestic consumer is able to get the best quality and the best price for these commodities. "It is important that our farmers stay competitive in the world, and we as consumers are assured of the best buy and the finest food that is available anywhere in the world," Frick said.

If you think milk "comes from a bottle or paper carton" you are correct, but the actual milk-making machine is the dairy cow. A cow makes the milk that fills the bottles and cartons. You might have known this, but there are lots of other facts about milk that you may find interesting.

For example, a cow must give birth to a calf before she can make milk. The average Ohio cow produces nearly 10,000 pints of milk a year. Milk is the most important source of calcium in our diet. Dairy cases in most stores are away from the front of the store so shoppers will walk past other products (and buy on impulse) before getting to the milk.

These are just a few facts about milk that a 4-H member can learn in the non-livestock dairy project. This project provides opportunities to learn about what milk is, what it does in your body, how milk is made, what happens to it before it comes to the table, and how it is marketed. Project activities include visits to a dairy farm, a dairy processing plant, and a food store.

There are about 180 4-H projects that boys and girls can do in Ohio. If you know a youngster between 9 and 19 years old who would benefit from belonging to 4-H, contact the county Extension Office. 4-H programs are conducted by faculty of The Ohio State University and are open to all Ohio's youth whether they live in the city or in the country.

Have you really looked at a banana? Have you examined a leaf or a piece of bark closely? 4-H'ers learn to observe their surroundings in the "Creative Arts" project. They learn to use their eyes to study line, pattern and texture. They look at things from all sides, close-up and far away, in sunlight and shadow.

4-H'ers also learn about art materials and ways to use them. For example, they can learn about modeling clay to do sculpture, paints to paint pictures or designs for fabric, carving tools to carve soap or paraffin, and glue and wood to construct abstract forms. They can learn print processes, make rubbings and blot designs, make puppets or learn to do lettering.

The 4-H creative arts program is designed to allow boys and girls to express themselves and experiment with new ways of putting art materials together. The possibilities are limited only by the inventiveness of the individual.

If you know a youngster between ages 9 and 19 who would like to work in creative arts with other youth his age, or if you are an adult with time and talent for helping boys and girls, call or write the Cooperative Extension Service, 137 W. Franklin Street, Circleville, phone 474-7534, for further information.

County 4-H Club News

On July 27 at 7:30, the Busy Honey Bees 4-H Club under the advisorship of Betty Hott, Irene Ihrig, and Becky Swartz were all decked out for their annual Mother's Tea. The evening began with Nancy Peck, president, calling the meeting to order and welcoming everyone to the Tea. Then Ellen Evans led us in our pledges and the devotions were given by Sheri Somers. Next on the agenda was the modeling of the clothing projects by the gals. There were a flow of many colors, prints, textures, and styles viewed by the mothers of the following 4-Hers:

Clothing Top to Toe: Brenda and Jennifer Hunt, Carla Pyle, Amanda Smith, Melody Sockman, Missy Somers.

Jumpers: Ellen Evans, Susan Fox, Gina Keaton.

School Dress I: Sheri Somers.
Sports Clothes I: Dee Ann Hott, Teresa Morris, Sheri Somers.
Lounging: Betsy Day, Dee Ann Hott, Teresa Morris.

Project books and the completed projects of the following were also displayed.

A Redecorated Room: Betsy Day.
Laundry I: Betsy Day.
Creative Arts: Betsy Day, Dee Ann Hott, Teresa Morris.
Pioneer Arts: Dee Ann Hott.
Helping at Home: Karen Conrad, Missy Somers.

Snacking And Packing: Brenda and Jennifer Hunt, Carol Peck, Carla Pyle, Melody Sockman.

Preserve and Serve I: Betsy Day.
House Plants: Nancy Peck.

Dee Ann Hott and Missy Somers who gave safety speeches in the county contest presented their thoughts to the mothers. A team demonstration entitled Shape Up—Trim Down was given by Nancy Peck and Sheri Somers; and an individual demonstration by Dee Ann Hott called Knots-a-Lot on macrame.

Ellen Evans, safety leader, took the floor and presented everyone with some slides concerning storm safety and atomic energy.

For refreshments, the candlelit table was adorned with finger sandwiches, salad, variety of cookies, mints, and punch that was representative of the foods that were in the gals' Snacking

Future Of Farming Is Bright

"With the growing world population and the desire for better diets, new market opportunities are continuously developing for agricultural products," Kenneth E. Frick, head of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), said. "Activities in transportation, processing and exporting are growing," Frick said.

"Obviously if we're going to increase our world population from 4 to 7 billion during the next quarter century, we're talking of needing twice as much food at the turn of the century as we have today. Part of the way in which the world will be able to handle this is through a transfer of our technology to other nations. And this means more agriculturally-trained people. So young people have the opportunity to participate in this if they train themselves well for the job ahead," the USDA official said.

Commenting on the outlook for agriculture from a consumer viewpoint, Frick said that the consumer wishes to be, should be, and is in a position to expect a variety of foods of the highest standards. "I think these standards will continue to be improved as time goes on. The variety will even be increased and every U.S. consumer can look forward to getting his groceries far cheaper than anyone else in the world."

With a nation so able to export, this means that the domestic consumer is able to get the best quality and the best price for these commodities. "It is important that our farmers stay competitive in the world, and we as consumers are assured of the best buy and the finest food that is available anywhere in the world," Frick said.

Lakes Cleanup Lesson

Among the world's great inland water resources are the Great Lakes. A haven for recreation, tourism, commerce and water transportation, the value of these lakes increases with the needs of the people they serve.

Yet a decade ago one of their components—Lake Erie—was declared a "dead" lake by some environmentalists who found the volume of pollutants emptying into the lake all but irreversible. Lake Erie today has come a long way from that near-moribund status. It has been the target of concentrated clean-up efforts and, fortunately, has responded with a vigor which proves the effort did not come too late.

Concerted efforts by many communities, industries and $5 billion from the federal government earmarked for sewage treatment have gone into the progress made so far. The reclamation project is far from completed, especially on the U.S. side. Ninety-seven percent of the wastes from Canada are treated before entering the Great Lakes, compared with only 60 per cent from the U.S.

One of the lessons the Great Lakes have taught us is that it is considerably less expensive and disruptive to maintain clean waterways than it is to reclaim those which have gone to the brink of destruction.

Soaped Up

By JIM BISHOP

How's this for a soap opera plot? Charley comes home from the war to an empty house. His wife left no forwarding address at the post office. The P.O. has spent four years trying to locate Charley to deliver a Dear John letter from his wife.

She left him for a flirtatious brain surgeon who is going blind from glaucoma. Charley searches high and low - mostly low - for his Audrey. Accidentally, he confronts the brain surgeon and shoots him.

The bullet grazes the doctor's temple, magically restoring his sight. The surgeon finds a new career in a brave new world - shooting people who are going blind. Audrey weeps her way back into Charley's arms, only to hear him confess that he suspects he is a latent homosexual.

Audrey tells him not to worry. She knows that he is all man. It's his father who is a closet queen. Charley falls to the floor in a foaming fit as he refers to his old man as a mother. They sneak

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The Committee for Economic Development describes itself as nonpolitical and nonpartisan, but implicit in its most recent economic report is severe criticism of recent anti-inflation policy.

That policy, pursued by both Presidents Nixon and Ford, justified high unemployment and low production as necessary in the battle against rising prices. The CED reports, by its Research and Policy Committee, suggests the policy has failed.

Demand restraint, relying on unemployment and idle industrial capacity, it states, "has contributed to plunging the economy into severe recessions without bringing the inflation of prices and wages to an end."

More effective, it argues, would be federal policies aimed at increasing supplies and stimulating investment and keeping unemployment under 5 per cent, and relying less on the Federal Reserve and monetary policy.

You do not need to study that position to realize that it is one often associated with the labor movement or academe or Democrats or, in general, the more liberal sphere of intellectual and political life.

CED members, however, are largely practical, hard-nosed, pragmatic business executives, the hierarchy of American corporate life, plus some university presidents — "the establishment," often identified as conservative and Republican.

Idle industrial capacity and idle manpower, the CED reports, is wasteful. To fight inflation with deliberate unemployment is as bad, it says, as deliberate inflation to relieve unemployment.

And so, it recommended, "the President, in his annual economic message, propose a specific program with a projected timetable for reducing inflation, for maintaining a steady and sustainable growth of real output, and for returning the economy to high employment."

Fiscal policy, or government spending (or lack of it) and taxation, should be stressed more, and the role of monetary policy, which involves money supply and interest rates, should be diminished.

A reader of the report doesn't need any underlying or boldfaced type to help remind him that the policy being offered contrasts on point after point with the policies pursued over the past few years.

Unemployment, for example, rose to 8.9 per cent of the civilian labor force in May 1975, the highest level achieved since pre-World War Two days. We were told it was needed if we were to return to stability.

Industrial capacity sank drastically to around 70 per cent as we fought the battle against inflation. Factories closed or reduced their staffs. Investment in more productive techniques almost ceased.

While the President and Congress did pass a tax cut, the Federal Reserve and its monetary policy ruled the economy during this time. And the Fed was determined to undercut inflation, even, it seemed, at the cost of continued recession.

Looking back at this and other recessions, some critics maintain that we don't fight inflation or unemployment but we fight ourselves. We might import inflation, but we lash ourselves as the antidote.

True, anything economic is far, far more complex than can be conveyed by a few words or even a book. Nobody wants inflation. Nobody wants unemployment. Nobody wants high interest rates.

The only reason we permit any of these is to "cure" something else. But the CED seems to be telling us that in the name of humanity and a sound economy let's look for some other answers.

No single policy holds the answers, the CED says, but a coordinated policy, utilizing the brains, restraint and good will of business, labor, Congress and the presidency might make our efforts more productive.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Aug. 14, the 227th day of 1976. There are 139 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1945, President Harry Truman announced Japan's unconditional surrender. It was the end of World War II.

On this date:

In 1941, during World War II, it was disclosed that President Franklin Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill had signed the Atlantic Charter in their meeting at sea.

In 1947, the United States canceled about $1 billion in debts owed by Italy.

Ten years ago: Chicago police clashed with rioting whites after three simultaneous black marches into all-white neighborhoods.

Five years ago: The British army sent more troops to the border between the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland to face a widening campaign of arms smuggling and sabotage.

One year ago: The president of Bangladesh was killed in a military coup which overthrew that country's 3½-year-old government.

Today's birthdays: Circus impresario John Ringling North is 73 years old.

Thought for today: It is a mistake to look too far ahead. Only one link in the chain of destiny can be handled at a time — Winston Churchill.

Bicentennial footnote: 200 years ago, Congress resolved to offer all deserters from the British army a secure refuge, the privileges and immunities of natives and five and one-quarter acres of land.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

There is no greater evidence of the dedication of physicians in their relationships to their patients than their projected cooperation in the 1976 mass immunization against the "swine" influenza.

It is well established that physicians in America plan to attain this goal of mass vaccination whether or not they are compensated in an attempt to prevent the death of thousands of people.

Not since the devastating polio epidemics in the early 1950s has there been such a coordinated effort at mass vaccination. At that time, hundreds of thousands of people were spared the devastation of polio by the intensive campaign of Federal, state and local health agencies and the physicians who participated in the program.

The fact that almost 150 million dollars was allocated to the development, production and distribution of the "swine" influenza vaccine is further evidence of the excellent health enterprise system that exists in the United States.

The mechanics have been set in motion to prevent the epidemic spread of this disease. It can attain its goal only if every person in America accepts this gift of health once it is suggested to them by their physician or their local health officials.

Serum hepatitis is a liver disease that occasionally is transmitted through blood transfusions.

Sometimes, blood used for such purposes may contain an unsuspected virus.

After a series of exhaustive tests in animals a new vaccine against serum hepatitis seems to be within immediate reach.

The preliminary study on guinea pigs and monkeys shows that the vaccine is highly potent in producing anti-body formation (protection against serum hepatitis).

The results of the tests of the vaccine for the control of hepatitis B (serum hepatitis) is so promising that soon it will be ready for human trials, according to a recent article in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Eugene B. Buynak and his colleagues at the Merck Institute at West Point, Pennsylvania, said, "The result of the tests in the present study gives promise for the eventual control of hepatitis B by a highly purified viral antigen vaccine."

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Avoid hasty decisions. Look more closely into all situations. There may be values not seen at a cursory glance.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Your intuition at a peak. A good day for backing your hunches with zestful, optimistic performance. Travel and romance favored.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): A good day in which to seek information you need. Study or creative writing of some kind will pay off in a sense of deep satisfaction.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Stimulating aspects give new impetus to all worthwhile undertakings. Especially favored: family interests, community projects, outdoor pursuits.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): An above-average day in certain areas; possibly trying in others. Don't do half a job or get only half of a story. In discussions, listen to ALL — carefully.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Gauge everything accurately; be quick to perceive erroneous information. Some tricky spots indicated. Make decisions to act in a well-balanced, foresighted manner.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Influences indicate a wider scope of interests, possibly greater activity. But take precautions not to overstep sensible boundaries.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Routine matters may not go as planned. A "lesser light" may offer much needed help. Don't underestimate his (her) ability.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Your judgment a bit "cloudy." Optimism may be coloring your outlook, so postpone making decisions until a more propitious period.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Certain situations may be annoying, but they MUST be handled — and calmly. At all costs, avoid anxiety and over-emotionalism.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Good stellar influences. A novel "twist," a new approach to a stymied project could spark fresh interest, relieve the monotony of details.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A most fortunate day for personal plans and ambitions. Your innate intuition at a peak. Don't hesitate to back your hunches.

GM Misunderstood On Labor Issue?

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp.'s chief negotiator, George Morris Jr., said Thursday that United Auto Workers bargainers "misunderstood" a GM proposal the union views as an attempt to hold down pay raises.

Calling the position paper GM handed the union July 27 "just an explanation" of what the GM worker has achieved, he said, "We haven't made our proposal yet."

UAW negotiators have said they view the company's position paper as a threat to the so-called Wilson wage-increase formula, and said the union wouldn't stand with any tampering with the Formula.

The Wilson formula, proposed in 1948 by GM president Charles Wilson and accepted by the UAW, proposed that workers be rewarded for increases in productivity with a raise which came to be called the Annual Improvement Factor (AIF).

The Wilson theory also said that increases in workers' standard of living should be shielded against inflation by a cost-of-living allowance tied to increases in the consumer price index.

Morris said, however, that GM workers' standard of living has out-distanced national productivity if fringe benefits are considered. He reiterated that the company feels total compensation costs — wages plus benefits — should be linked to that productivity.

"The benefits that the GM worker receives are beyond anything in the Wilsonian theory," Morris said.

The company contends the average wage of a GM worker has increased 384 per cent since 1948, and total compensation including wages and benefits has gone up 606 per cent.

But UAW Vice President Irving Bluestone, head of the union's GM department, said that when inflation is considered, the increase in real purchasing power over the 28-year period is only 2.5 per cent.

Bluestone said the union wants to continue to link AIF increases to national productivity, but also wants the cost-of-living mechanism modernized to more fully protect workers from inflation.

At Chrysler Corp. Thursday, bargainers continued to debate the company's proposal to reduce absenteeism by tightening eligibility requirements for holiday pay.

The company claimed that high absentee rates forced plantwide shutdowns to provide mandatory worker relief time more than 650 times in 1974 and 1975, resulting in lost production of more than 13,000 units.

But the union repeated its charge that the company's proposals don't attack the heart of the absentee problem.

Vote Straight, Bowen Tells Group

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The voters will deal with any Republican National Convention delegate who votes other than the way he's committed on the first ballot, says Gov. Otis R. Bowen.

"And I think the voter's wrath would be substantial," he added. Bowen was questioned Thursday during taping of the weekly "Report from the Statehouse" television show.

Bowen, who will head the Indiana delegation, says it will cast 45 votes for Ronald Reagan and nine for President Ford on the first ballot in Kansas City. That split is the result of the May 4 primary. "That's an obligation of the delegation," the governor said.

Crop Report Good, Bad, USDA Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The August crop-production report from the Agriculture Department is considered the most important of the year. This time it held good news for consumers, bad news for cattle feeders and so-so news for most grain farmers.

At least that was the assessment Thursday that USDA's director of economics, Don Paarlberg, gave reporters.

"The story here is that growing conditions worsened during July in the upper Great Plains and the western Corn Belt ... but despite that, the crops that are growing out there are only a scratch below the previous record" for production of all U.S. crops, he said.

Leading the way was a continued forecast as of Aug. 1 for a record corn crop: 6.19 billion bushels, 7 per cent above last year's mark.

But that projected harvest was 366 million bushels, "a sizeable reduction," below the report last month, which was based on July 1 field surveys by the Crop Reporting Board, Paarlberg noted.

Nonetheless, he said, consumers "should not be frightened."

He and other USDA officials said they see no reason to change their current prediction of an increase in retail food prices this year averaging 3 to 4 per cent over last year, when prices rose 8.5 per cent over 1974.

The tightening-up could mean food prices will move "a shade the wrong side of the stability we foresee," he said, but he doesn't think so.

"Through mid-1977, it should be fairly subdued as far as increases are concerned," he added.

Vandament Set For OSU Position

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — William E. Vandament, an assistant vice president at the State University of New York, will be recommended as director of the budget and resources planning at Ohio State University.

OSU President Harold L. Enarson said the trustees will consider the nomination on Sept. 10.

Vandament is being nominated for the post now held by Richard H. Zimmerman who will return to teaching.

Vandament has been on leave for the past year to serve as director of studies for the University Commission on Purposes and Priorities for SUNY.

Pickaway Senior Center Members Take Tour Of Zanesville, Cambridge

Forty-one members of Pickaway Senior Center took a trip Wednesday to the Zanesville and Cambridge areas. Leaving the Center at 9 a.m. aboard a Greyhound bus, they drove to Lancaster, and via Routes 37 and 79 around Buckeye Lake to 170. Going directly to the lodge at Salt Fork Lake, the group was seated at tables along the windows in the dining room, overlooking the lake. After a little shopping in the gift shop and looking around the lodge, they traveled to the National Road Museum on Route 40 just east of Zanesville. There they toured the Museum, also called the Zane Gray Museum.

Of great interest to the visitors was the fact that the small animals in all of the exhibits had been created by Jan Snyder who is the granddaughter of Faye Mahaffey, one of the Ashville members. Jan was also the model for the life-size mannekin seated in the Model T Ford.

A visit to a pottery shop nearby was next on the agenda, and then the drive over old route 40, and 37 north to

Granville and west into Columbus on 161 took them to the French Market. The group arrived home at 7:30 p.m. The day's fun was marred by the news of the death of Annabelle Grubb who had planned to go along. She died of an apparent heart attack the evening before.

Taking the tour were: Elizabeth Bach, Isabella Badger, Bea Bach, Mildred Brink, Mabel Barr, Jean and Floy Brobst, Francell Cromley, Yetive Dudleson, Olive Eitel, Mary Enochs, Marguerite Gay, Hazel Harvey, Jenny Hoffman.

Connie Howell, Viola Hartranft, Adella Huffman, Galina Ivascu, Pauline Jones, Marie McMillion, Elsie Miller, Merle McAfee, Pauline Pearce, Zel Pos, Daisy Price, Viola Rife, Agnes Ragland, Eunice Shy, Alice Scothorn.

Dorothy Smith, Minnie Strawser, Henrietta Stocklen, Alice V. Stout, Gertrude Sanborn, Elva Scott, Kathryn Wynkoop, Marie V. Wilson, Margaret and Randolph Wolfe, Daisy Welch and Twyla Lorentz, as tour guide for the day.

Picnic Meeting Held By Women

Fourteen ladies were present for the recent meeting of Laurelville Church of God at the home of Mrs. Judy Summers, Jackson Road, Circleville.

A carry-in picnic lunch was served in the wooded area of the Summers home. Table grace was by the Rev. Lynn Summers.

Devotions were given by Margie Ebert with scripture from Acts 9:36-42. The life history of Dorcas was discussed. Following prayer by Alma Radabaugh the ladies formed a circle and each prayed her own prayer.

Plans were made for a yard and bake sale 9:30 a.m., Aug. 21, at the Laurelville Park. Members were reminded of the Missionary Retreat to be held in Warsaw on Sept. 17-18.

Present for the meeting and picnic were Linda Bell, Alma Radabaugh, Marilyn Fry, Evelyn Boyd, Judy Summers, Pat Welliver, Margie Ebert, Bertha Wiggins, Rosemary Bell, Wanda Smith, Vonnice Moccabee, Judy Clifton, Josephine Hardman and Linda Smith.

Marriage Vows Exchanged In Candlelight Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. RANDALL L. DOWNS

In a candlelight ceremony Miss Linda Gay Morgan and Mr. Randall L. Downs exchanged wedding vows 7:30 p.m., July 23, in Trinity Lutheran Church.

Pastor Carl G. Zehner performed the double ring service for the daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Paxton, 135 Marshall Road, and Mr. Paul Morgan, 127 Pontious Lane, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Downs, 238 Parkdawn Drive.

Mrs. Thomas Downing, organist, played a half-hour program preceding the ceremony, and as the couple lit the unity candle "You'll Never Walk Alone." Other selections by Mrs. Downing included "The Lord's Prayer," "O, Perfect Love," "Jesus, Still Lead One," and for the processional "Trumpet Tune In D Major." The recessional was "Ode To Joy."

The church was decorated with vases holding daisies, baby's breath and gladioli, and candelabra flanked the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected for her wedding a formal length empire silhouette gown of white tiffany jersey. The bodice featured bishop sleeves, a wedding band collar and keyhole neckline edged in alencon lace. The A-line skirt drifted to a chapel length train. Her mantilla of silk illusion was outlined in alencon lace and flowed softly to cathedral train length.

Miss Mary Jo Morgan was maid of honor. She wore a long light blue gown of lace over taffeta with cap sleeves and V-neckline. Her white ripple brimmed picture hat was accented with blue maline netting and she carried a bouquet of multi-colored daisies and baby's breath. The sweetheart necklace she wore was a gift of the bride.

Bridesmaids, Miss Lisa Lintner and Miss Susan Loucks, were gowned identically to the maid of honor in pink. They carried matching bouquets and wore necklaces like that of Miss Morgan.

Mr. Jeff Arledge performed the duties of best man and ushers were Mr. Steve Marshall and Mr. Doug Marshall.

The bride's mother was attired in a long aqua blue gown with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a long light blue gown with long sleeves. Corsages for both mothers were of light pink rosebuds and white ribbon.

A reception in the Parish House immediately followed the ceremony.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Country Cousins Suffer

DEAR ABBY: I am wondering if other farm families have this problem with city relatives. We almost have to put locks on everything when they come to visit.

The city folks are so antique crazy, they tear the boards off the barns, pick up fence posts and go snooping through the cupboards to see if maybe we've got some old, beat-up brass or copper pots they can make into lamps.

They are always asking how old things are, and if we know where they came from. We wouldn't mind if they waited until we discarded something, but I can be sitting on a rocking chair, and they'll ask if I'm ready to throw it out.

They think everything they see at a farm house is an antique. We try to tell them, "Maybe so," but that some things we still use ourselves, and if not, we might want to save them for our children.

They make fun of their country cousins, but I wonder what they'd think if we came to their homes and stood over their belongings like a bunch of vultures.

FROM IOWA
DEAR FROM: They'd probably think you were grasping hayseeds with bad manners, when in fact they are grasping urbanites with no class.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law must have at least 200 pictures standing around. They're on her mantle, piano, television and every table in the place. Her walls are also covered with them. All are pictures of her children when they were babies and in various stages of childhood. I have never seen such clutter in my life.

Should I tell her that no one cares to see a baby picture of her 35-year-old son naked and on a fur rug? (The "baby" is my husband.)

Don't tell me that if I don't like the looks of her house I shouldn't visit her, because my husband is one of those devoted sons who thinks he has to run over there nearly every night, and he drags me with him.

How can I tell her it's time she updated her collection?

ANONYMOUS, PLS.
DEAR ANON: It's your mother-in-law's home, and apparently she enjoys the collection, so if you don't, keep your eyes closed. And your mouth as well.

DEAR ABBY: John and I were married in 1970. It was the second time around for both of us. Because of interfering relatives, including eight children and in-laws on both sides, who did everything they could to break up our marriage, we were divorced three years later. The problem is, we still love each other.

Despite all the unpleasantness, we forgave each other and continued what has always been a wonderfully loving relationship. We are in our mid-50's and feel ridiculous sneaking around to be together.

John says, "Let's say to heck with everything; sell our houses, move 1,000 miles away from all the relatives and enjoy the years we have left!"

Neither of us has to work, and our financial situation is good. Should I put myself first for once in my life and remarry John? Or keep up a house for my remaining unmarried daughter?

TORN
DEAR TORN: Your John is a man after my own heart. Remarry him and move away from both your families. Don't worry about your unmarried daughter. She's probably due to leave the nest soon anyway. Enjoy your lives. It's always later than you think.

Pickaway Senior Center Members Take Tour Of Zanesville, Cambridge

Forty-one members of Pickaway Senior Center took a trip Wednesday to the Zanesville and Cambridge areas. Leaving the Center at 9 a.m. aboard a Greyhound bus, they drove to Lancaster, and via Routes 37 and 79 around Buckeye Lake to I70. Going directly to the lodge at Salt Fork Lake, the group was seated at tables along the windows in the dining room, overlooking the lake. After a little shopping in the gift shop and looking around the lodge, they traveled to the National Road Museum on Route 40 just east of Zanesville. There they toured the Museum, also called the Zane Gray Museum.

Of great interest to the visitors was the fact that the small animals in all of the exhibits had been created by Jan Snyder who is the granddaughter of Faye Mahaffey, one of the Ashville members. Jan was also the model for the life-size mannekin seated in the Model T Ford.

A visit to a pottery shop nearby was next on the agenda, and then the drive over old route 40, and 37 north to

Granville and west into Columbus on 161 took them to the French Market. The group arrived home at 7:30 p.m. The day's fun was marred by the news of the death of Annabelle Grubb who had planned to go along. She died of an apparent heart attack the evening before.

Taking the tour were: Elizabeth Bach, Isabella Badger, Bea Bach, Mildred Brink, Mabel Barr, Jean and Floy Brobst, Francell Cromley, Yetive Dudleson, Olive Eitel, Mary Enochs, Marguerite Gay, Hazel Harvey, Jenny Hoffman.

Connie Howell, Viola Hartranft, Adella Huffman, Galina Ivascu, Pauline Jones, Marie McMillion, Elsie Miller, Merle McAfee, Pauline Pearce, Zel Pos, Daisy Price, Viola Rife, Agnes Ragland, Eunice Shy, Alice Scothorn.

Dorothy Smith, Minnie Strawser, Henrietta Stocklen, Alice V. Stout, Gertrude Sanborn, Elva Scott, Kathryn Wynkoop, Marie V. Wilson, Margaret and Randolph Wolfe, Daisy Welch and Twyla Lorentz, as tour guide for the day.

Picnic Meeting Held By Women

Fourteen ladies were present for the recent meeting of Laureville Church of God at the home of Mrs. Judy Summers, Jackson Road, Circleville. A carry-in picnic lunch was served in the wooded area of the Summers home. Table grace was by the Rev. Lynn Summers.

Devotions were given by Margie Ebert with scripture from Acts 9:36-42. The life history of Dorcas was discussed. Following prayer by Alma Radabaugh the ladies formed a circle and each prayed her own prayer.

Plans were made for a yard and bake sale 9:30 a.m., Aug. 21, at the Laureville Park. Members were reminded of the Missionary Retreat to be held in Warsaw on Sept. 17-18.

Present for the meeting and picnic were Linda Bell, Alma Radabaugh, Marilyn Fry, Evelyn Boyd, Judy Summers, Pat Welliver, Margie Ebert, Bertha Wiggins, Rosemary Bell, Wanda Smith, Vonnie Moccabee, Judy Clifton, Josephine Hardman and Linda Smith.

Marriage Vows Exchanged In Candlelight Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. RANDALL L. DOWNS

In a candlelight ceremony Miss Linda Gay Morgan and Mr. Randall L. Downs exchanged wedding vows 7:30 p.m., July 23, in Trinity Lutheran Church.

Pastor Carl G. Zehner performed the double ring service for the daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Paxton, 135 Marshall Road, and Mr. Paul Morgan, 127 Pontious Lane, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Downs, 238 Parklawn Drive.

Mrs. Thomas Downing, organist, played a half-hour program preceding the ceremony, and as the couple lit the unity candle "You'll Never Walk Alone." Other selections by Mrs. Downing included "The Lord's Prayer," "O, Perfect Love," "Jesus, Still Lead One," and for the processional "Trumpet Tune In D Major." The recessional was "Ode To Joy."

The church was decorated with vases holding daisies, baby's breath and gladioli, and candelabra flanked the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected for her wedding a formal length empire silhouette gown of white tiffany jersey. The bodice featured bishop sleeves, a wedding band collar and keyhole neckline edged in alencon lace. The A-line skirt drifted to a chapel length train. Her mantilla of silk illusion was outlined in alencon lace and flowed softly to cathedral train length.

Miss Mary Jo Morgan was maid of honor. She wore a long light blue gown of lace over taffeta with cap sleeves and V-neckline. Her white ripple brimmed picture hat was accented with blue maline netting and she carried a bouquet of multi-colored daisies and baby's breath. The sweetheart necklace she wore was a gift of the bride.

Bridesmaids, Miss Lisa Lintner and Miss Susan Loucks, were gowned identically to the maid of honor in pink. They carried matching bouquets and wore necklaces like that of Miss Morgan.

Mr. Jeff Arledge performed the duties of best man and ushers were Mr. Steve Marshall and Mr. Doug Marshall.

The bride's mother was attired in a long aqua blue gown with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a long light blue gown with long sleeves. Corsages for both mothers were of light pink rosebuds and white ribbon.

A reception in the Parish House immediately followed the ceremony.

Juvenile Court Has Light Week

Two traffic cases against a Route 1, Orient Youth and an marriage application were the only cases terminated last week in Pickaway County Juvenile Court.

The traffic affidavits were against Dennis A. Tobin, 17, charged with driving without a valid operator's license and driving an auto with an invalid license plate.

Tobin was fined $10 with $5 suspended and had his license suspended for 45 days after he has received them. The court also ordered the youth to attend traffic school.

A 17-year-old couple was granted court permission to marry during the week and one youth was released from probation. The court also transferred one traffic case to Lawrence County, the home county of the defendant.

During the month of July, the court filed 67 new cases and terminated 75 cases. There were 102 pending cases on the first day of the month and only 94 left pending on the last day.

New cases filed included 21 delinquency, six unruly, nine dependent-neglect, 23 traffic, four adults and one consent to marry. The court also placed 12 boys and two girls on probation during the month.

Anderson To Duel With Lions Rushers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ken Anderson finds out who his friends are tonight. Off to his best preseason start ever, the Cincinnati Bengals quarterback faces the fiercest defensive test yet. The Bengals, 2-0, host the Detroit Lions, one of the most blitzminded clubs in the National Football League.

"They blitz and blitz and blitz," said Bengals linebacker Jim LeClair.

That means Anderson, who has completed 16 of 18 passes in the exhibition season, will need extra protection from his teammates if Cincinnati is going to beat Detroit for the sixth straight time in exhibition play.

"They have blitzed 30 times in each of their last two games," said Bengals Coach Bill Johnson. "It's going to be a good test up front."

The game will afford Johnson one of his last opportunities to evaluate a crop of rookies described as the best in Bengals history.

"I'll stand on what I said before the training camp even started. This is a fine group of rookies," he said. Though Johnson plans to start vetters Boobie Clark and Charlie Davis, the club's top rushers—rookies Archie Griffin and Willie Shelby—are expected to see plenty of action.

Griffin, the two-time Heisman Trophy winner out of Ohio State, is averaging 6.6 yards per carry while Shelby, a fifth round pick who was originally tried as a defensive back, has a 9.2 average, ripping 55 yards in six carries last week in a 31-0 victory over Buffalo.

Anderson spearheaded the victory, firing touchdown tosses of 51 and 40 yards to All-Pro wide receiver Isaac Curtis.

The Lions, 1-2, had plans to give running back Steve Owens, the 1969 Heisman Trophy winner, his first start since 1974. But the former Oklahoma star, along with tight end Charlie Sanders, will miss the game.

Glenn Cameron, who is engaged in a lively battle with veteran middle linebacker Jim LeClair, is making his first start as a Bengal. The former University of Florida standout was Cincinnati's No. 1 draft pick in 1975.

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — First Me, going off at 9-1, grabbed the lead at the top of the stretch and went on to win the featured pace mile Friday night in ninth race at Latonia by 2 3/4 lengths in her best time of 2:01.3-5.

The winner returned $20.20, $9 and $6.80. Super Knox placed, $8.40 and $6.20 and Miss Bud, third, $6.80.

Count Blanks Phils, 3-0

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Baseball players are generally a superstitious lot, and going for victory No. 13 on Friday the 13th—against a team like the Philadelphia Phillies, no less—would be enough to cause most pitchers to tread softly.

Not John Montefusco. "It's my lucky day," said the flamboyant hurler known as The Count, who allowed just six hits in pitching the San Francisco Giants to a 3-0 victory over the Phils, raising his record to 13-9.

"Heck, I got 13 strikeouts five or six times in the minors. This is my anniversary with my girl friend. I went to the track yesterday and they parked me in space No. 13.

"It's my lucky number." Elsewhere in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds beat the New York Mets 7-3; the Chicago Cubs edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 in 15 innings in the opener of their doubleheader before bowing 8-7 in the second game; the Montreal Expos blanked the San Diego Padres 6-0 in the first game of their doubleheader and then lost 4-3 in the nightcap; the St. Louis Cardinals shut out the Atlanta Braves 8-0, and the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 8-5.

Reds 7, Mets 3
Another player who is not bothered by superstitions is Reds shortstop Dave Concepcion—he wears No. 13 on his back.

And on Friday the 13th, he pounded a pair of home runs, a double and a single to help the Reds beat New York. The rest of the Reds offense came from George Foster, who drove in four runs with his 27th home run of the season and a pair of singles to raise his season total of runs batted in to 106, easily tops in the majors.

Cubs 3-7, Dodgers 2-8
Chicago took the opener when Rick Monday scored from third on a wild pitch by Charlie Hough with two out in the 15th inning. Monday had singled with two out and gone to third on a single by Jose Cardenal.

The Cubs appeared headed for a sweep, leading 8-6 in the ninth inning of the nightcap, but they couldn't hold on.

Expos 6-3, Padres 0-4
Steve Rogers, 5-10, pitched his third shutout of the season, stopping the Padres on six singles in the opener. Warren Cromartie and Ellis Valentine had two-run singles for the Expos.

The Padres gained a split when Brent Strom and Butch Metzger combined for a six-hitter. Ted Kubiak's two-run single was the big hit of the game for San Diego.

Cardinals 8, Braves 0
Hector Cruz' three-run double capped a six-run outburst in the fifth inning that backed the eight-hit pitching of Pete Falcone, 9-11. Cruz drove in another run in the seventh with a sacrifice fly.

Pirates 8, Astros 5
Manny Sanguillen's two-run homer capped a three-run uprising in the eighth inning that clinched Pittsburgh's victory. A single by Richie Zisk and a triple by Rennie Stennett preceded Sanguillen's second home run of the season.

Nettles, Yanks Blast Twins, 9-3

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Graig Nettles seems to keep a grudge a long time. It's been six years since the Minnesota Twins let him go, and he hasn't forgiven them yet.

"You bet I enjoy hitting against Minnesota," says the New York Yankee third baseman. "They are the ones that told me I couldn't hit left-handers or play third base. They gave up on me."

The Twins no doubt have been sorry many times over that they dismissed one of the American League's premier infielders, but Friday night they were even sorrier.

Nettles continued to make them pay for their mistake by driving in five runs with two homers as the Yankees beat the Twins, 9-3.

Nettles' power show eased the way for Ed Figueroa's 15th victory and evoked the obvious comment from Minnesota Manager Gene Mauch.

The victory, coupled with Baltimore's 5-2 loss to the Chicago White Sox, improved the Yankees' lead in the American League East to 11 games over the Orioles. In other American League games, the Detroit Tigers nipped the Kansas City Royals 3-2; the Oakland A's blanked the Boston Red Sox 2-0; the Milwaukee Brewers stopped the California Angels 2-0 and the Texas Rangers edged the Cleveland Indians 2-1.

Gil Morgan Leader In PGA Tournament

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — "I've never seen him hit a shot," Jack Nicklaus said.

Just then the 36-hole leader of the PGA Golf Championship, an obscure golfing optometrist named Dr. Gilmer Bryan Morgan II, hove into view, escorted into the red-and-white interview tent by a cordon of blue-coated officials.

Nicklaus, the defending champion and tournament favorite, just had finished giving details of his second-round 69, putting him at even par 140 for two tours over the energy-sapping Congressional Club course.

Now Gil Morgan, who had teed off only 18 minutes after the Golden Bear, was being led up to the white cloth-covered table, where microphones

Britz Leads LPGA Tilt

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP) — Armed with her little black book, Jerilyn Britz took a oneshot lead into the second round of the $50,000 Wheeling Ladies Pro Golf Association Classic today.

Miss Britz—who missed the cut in her previous two Wheeling tournaments—shot a two-under-par 70 Friday to lead veteran Sandra Haynie, Donna Caponi Young and Laura Baugh by one shot.

The Minneapolis native, who also missed the cut in last week's European Open in England, said the Wheeling course is one of the most difficult on the LPGA tour. But she credits her sudden turnaround to a book she carried with her throughout Friday's first round of play.

"My caddie and I went over the course before the tournament and we marked every possible hazard on a diagram," Miss Britz said. "This is a testing course. Every hole is interesting."

The three-year tour veteran never has finished higher than fourth in a tournament and ranks 50th on this year's money winning list. But she thinks this might be the tournament for her to make her move.

Bill Stein drove in two runs and Rich Gossage and Dave Hamilton pitched Chicago over Baltimore with a combined seven-hitter. The Chicago pitchers got strong defensive support from center fielder Chet Lemon, who made four sharp catches of line drives to left center and snared another hard drive to short center.

Tigers 3, Royals 2
Doubles by Tom Verzyer and John Wockenfuss with two out in the seventh inning propelled Detroit over Kansas City. After Wockenfuss' double broke a 1-1 tie, the Tigers added a run in the seventh on Rusty Staub's RBI single. It proved to be the winning run when the Royals scored in the bottom of the ninth on a double by George Brett off Vern Ruhle and a single by John Mayberry off reliever John Hiller.

A's 2, Red Sox 0
Mike Norris and Rollie Fingers combined on a four-hitter and Oakland feasted on three Boston errors in the fourth inning to beat the Red Sox and close to within seven games of Kansas City in the American League West.

The defending division champions, who were 12 games behind the Royals a week ago, got only four hits off Reggie Cleveland, 6-6, in winning their seventh straight game.

Brewers 2, Angels 0
Rookie Jerry Augustine pitched a four-hitter to lead Milwaukee over California. Augustine's victory improved his season's record to 5-8 and stood up like electronic weeds, to explain how he had managed to tack a two-under-par 68 to a first-round 66 for an unbelievable front-running score of 134.

Nicklaus, his sun-bleached hair falling over his forehead, shot a look in the direction of Morgan and appeared to dissect him with one penetrating glance. Then he got up from the chair, turned and walked toward the exit.

Morgan watched the game's recognized sovereign disappear. No confrontation. Ships that pass in the night.

Such was the little drama that set the scene for the weekend showdown of the 58th clambake of the game's teaching and tournament. The question is: Can Nicklaus catch the cool doctor from Oklahoma? Can anybody catch him?

With the often temperamental and unpredictable Tom Weiskopf cooling off from his opening round of 65, Texan Tom Kite moved closest to Morgan with 66-72—138, four shots back.

Weiskopf, erratic with his irons, double-bogeyed the par-four sixth hole, which he eagled Thursday, for a 74 that placed him at 139 in a tie with veteran Don January, 70-69 and South Africa's Gary Player. Player holed out from one bunker and almost knocked down the pin from three others in salvaging a 69.

Trifecta Sets Mark At Scioto Downs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A record trifecta payoff of $13,577.70 was recorded at the Scioto Downs harness racing track Friday night. Three tickets were sold on the winning 10-1-5 combination.

In the featured race, Moonlight Music came on strong in the stretch for a 1 1/4-length victory and returned $14, $5.60 and $2.80. May paid $6.40 and $3.20 for second and Rocktown, $2.40 for show.

The 6-2 daily double combination of Ammo Star and Bohemian Time was worth $36.60.

Attendance was 6,386; handle was $385,616.

gave him three triumphs in three appearances against the Angels this year. It was only the fourth complete game in the 24-year-old left-hander's major league career.

Rangers 2, Indians 1
Toby Harrah's sacrifice fly in the ninth gave Texas its victory over Cleveland behind Jim Umbarger's strong pitching. Umbarger scattered eight hits in posting his eighth triumph against nine defeats. Loser Dennis Eckersley, 7-10, pitched brilliantly in defeat, striking out a personal high of 14 batters.

PP&K Contest Sponsored By Houseman

The 1976 Punt Pass and Kick competition will be sponsored again this year by Jim Houseman Ford in Circleville.

Nationally, PP&K is celebrating its 16th anniversary. It is sponsored by the Ford dealers of America in cooperation with the National Football League. Since it was started in 1961, the program has attracted more than 12 million youngsters and participation this year is expected to top the 1,200,000 mark.

Participants in the Punt Pass and Kick program compete only against others their own age. Any youngster eight through 13 years of age accompanied by a parent or guardian may register to compete at Houseman Ford. There is no entrance fee and no body contact during competition. No special equipment is needed and participating does not impair a youngster's amateur standing.

Scoring is based on accuracy and range with one point added for every foot of punting, passing and kicking distance and a point subtracted for every foot off a center line.

Twelve national finalists will compete for the National Championships in their age group during the halftime of an NFL Divisional playoff game in December. Winners will have their names permanently inscribed in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. Their trophies will be presented by Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Anderson To Duel With Lions Rushers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ken Anderson finds out who his friends are tonight. Off to his best preseason start ever, the Cincinnati Bengals quarterback faces the fiercest defensive test yet. The Bengals, 2-0, host the Detroit Lions, one of the most blitzminded clubs in the National Football League.

"They blitz and blitz and blitz," said Bengals linebacker Jim LeClair.

That means Anderson, who has completed 16 of 18 passes in the exhibition season, will need extra protection from his teammates if Cincinnati is going to beat Detroit for the sixth straight time in exhibition play.

"They have blitzed 30 times in each of their last two games," said Bengals Coach Bill Johnson. "It's going to be a good test up front."

The game will afford Johnson one of his last opportunities to evaluate a crop of rookies described as the best in Bengals history.

"I'll stand on what I said before the training camp even started. This is a fine group of rookies," he said.

Though Johnson plans to start veterans Boobie Clark and Charlie Davis, the club's top rushers—rookies Archie Griffin and Willie Shelby—are expected to see plenty of action.

Griffin, the two-time Heisman Trophy winner out of Ohio State, is averaging 6.6 yards per carry while Shelby, a fifth round pick who was originally tried as a defensive back, has a 9.2 average, ripping 55 yards in six carries last week in a 31-10 victory over Buffalo.

Anderson spearheaded the victory, firing touchdown tosses of 51 and 40 yards to All-Pro wide receiver Isaac Curtis.

The Lions, 1-2, had plans to give running back Steve Owens, the 1969 Heisman Trophy winner, his first start since 1974. But the former Oklahoma star, along with tight end Charlie Sanders, will miss the game.

Glenn Cameron, who is engaged in a lively battle with veteran middle linebacker Jim LeClair, is making his first start as a Bengal. The former University of Florida standout was Cincinnati's No. 1 draft pick in 1975.

First Me Victorious In Latonia Feature

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — First Me, going off at 9-1, grabbed the lead at the top of the stretch and went on to win the featured pace mile Friday night in ninth race at Latonia by 2 3-4 lengths in her best time of 2:01.3-5.

The winner returned $20.20, $9 and $6.80. Super Knox placed, $8.40 and $6.20 and Miss Bud, third, $6.80.

Count Blanks Phils, 3-0

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Baseball players are generally a superstitious lot, and going for victory No. 13 on Friday the 13th—against a team like the Philadelphia Phillies, no less—would be enough to cause most pitchers to tread softly.

Not John Montefusco. "It's my lucky day," said the flamboyant hurler known as The Count, who allowed just six hits in pitching the San Francisco Giants to a 3-0 victory over the Phils, raising his record to 13-9.

"Heck, I got 13 strikeouts five or six times in the minors. This is my anniversary with my girl friend. I went to the track yesterday and they parked me in space No. 13.

"It's my lucky number." Elsewhere in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds beat the New York Mets 7-3; the Chicago Cubs edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 in 15 innings in the opener of their doubleheader before bowing 8-7 in the second game; the Montreal Expos blanked the San Diego Padres 6-0 in the first game of their doubleheader and then lost 4-3 in the nightcap; the St. Louis Cardinals shut out the Atlanta Braves 8-0, and the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 8-5.

Reds 7, Mets 3
Another player who is not bothered by superstitions is Reds shortstop Dave Concepcion—he wears No. 13 on his back.

And on Friday the 13th, he pounded a pair of home runs, a double and a single to help the Reds beat New York.

The rest of the Reds offense came from George Foster, who drove in four runs with his 27th home run of the season and a pair of singles to raise his season total of runs batted in to 106, easily tops in the majors.

Cubs 3-7, Dodgers 2-8
Chicago took the opener when Rick Monday scored from third on a wild pitch by Charlie Hough with two out in the 15th inning. Monday had singled with two out and gone to third on a single by Jose Cardenal.

The Cubs appeared headed for a sweep, leading 8-6 in the ninth inning of the nightcap, but they couldn't hold on.

Expos 6-3, Padres 0-4
Steve Rogers, 5-10, pitched his third shutout of the season, stopping the Padres on six singles in the opener. Warren Cromartie and Ellis Valentine had two-run singles for the Expos.

The Padres gained a split when Brent Strom and Butch Metzger combined for a six-hitter. Ted Kubiak's two-run single was the big hit of the game for San Diego.

Cards 8, Braves 0
Hector Cruz' three-run double capped a six-run outburst in the fifth inning that backed the eight-hit pitching of Pete Falcone, 9-11. Cruz drove in another run in the seventh with a sacrifice fly.

Pirates 8, Astros 5
Manny Sanguillen's two-run homer capped a three-run uprising in the eighth inning that clinched Pittsburgh's victory. A single by Richie Zisk and a triple by Rennie Stennett preceded Sanguillen's second home run of the season.

Nettles, Yanks Blast Twins, 9-3

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Graig Nettles seems to keep a grudge a long time. It's been six years since the Minnesota Twins let him go, and he hasn't forgiven them yet.

"You bet I enjoy hitting against Minnesota," says the New York Yankee third baseman. "They are the ones that told me I couldn't hit left-handers or play third base. They gave up on me."

The Twins no doubt have been sorry many times over that they dismissed one of the American League's premier infielders, but Friday night they were even sorrier.

Nettles continued to make them pay for their mistake by driving in five runs with two homers as the Yankees beat the Twins, 9-3.

Nettles' power show eased the way for Ed Figueroa's 15th victory and evoked the obvious comment from Minnesota Manager Gene Mauch.

The victory, coupled with Baltimore's 5-2 loss to the Chicago White Sox, improved the Yankees' lead in the American League East to 11 games over the Orioles. In other American League games, the Detroit Tigers nipped the Kansas City Royals 3-2; the Oakland A's blanked the Boston Red Sox 2-0; the Milwaukee Brewers stopped the California Angels 2-0 and the Texas Rangers edged the Cleveland Indians 2-1.

Gil Morgan Leader In PGA Tournament

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — "I've never seen him hit a shot," Jack Nicklaus said.

Just then the 36-hole leader of the PGA Golf Championship, an obscure golfing optometrist named Dr. Gilmer Bryan Morgan II, hove into view, escorted into the red-and-white interview tent by a cordon of blue-coated officials.

Nicklaus, the defending champion and tournament favorite, just had finished giving details of his second-round 69, putting him at even par 140 for two tours over the energy-sapping Congressional Club course.

Now Gil Morgan, who had teed off only 18 minutes after the Golden Bear, was being led up to the white cloth-covered table, where microphones

Britz Leads LPGA Tilt

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP) — Armed with her little black book, Jerilyn Britz took a oneshot lead into the second round of the $50,000 Wheeling Ladies Pro Golf Association Classic today.

Miss Britz—who missed the cut in her previous two Wheeling tournaments—shot a two-under-par 70 Friday to lead veteran Sandra Haynie, Donna Caponi Young and Laura Baugh by one shot.

The Minneapolis native, who also missed the cut in last week's European Open in England, said the Wheeling course is one of the most difficult on the LPGA tour. But she credits her sudden turnaround to a book she carried with her throughout Friday's first round of play.

"My caddie and I went over the course before the tournament and we marked every possible hazard on a diagram," Miss Britz said. "This is a testing course. Every hole is interesting."

The three-year tour veteran never has finished higher than fourth in a tournament and ranks 50th on this year's money winning list. But she thinks this might be the tournament for her to make her move.

Bill Stein drove in two runs and Rich Gossage and Dave Hamilton pitched Chicago over Baltimore with a combined seven-hitter. The Chicago pitchers got strong defensive support from center fielder Chet Lemon, who made four sharp catches of line drives to left center and snared another hard drive to short center.

Tigers 3, Royals 2
Doubles by Tom Veryzer and John Wockenfuss with two out in the seventh inning propelled Detroit over Kansas City. After Wockenfuss' double broke a 1-1 tie, the Tigers added a run in the seventh on Rusty Staub's RBI single. It proved to be the winning run when the Royals scored in the bottom of the ninth on a double by George Brett off Vern Ruhle and a single by John Mayberry off reliever John Hiller.

A's 2, Red Sox 0
Mike Norris and Rollie Fingers combined on a four-hitter and Oakland feasted on three Boston errors in the fourth inning to beat the Red Sox and close to within seven games of Kansas City in the American League West.

The defending division champions, who were 12 games behind the Royals a week ago, got only four hits off Reggie Cleveland, 6-6, in winning their seventh straight game.

Brewers 2, Angels 0
Rookie Jerry Augustine pitched a four-hitter to lead Milwaukee over California. Augustine's victory improved his season's record to 5-8 and stood up like electronic weeds, to explain how he had managed to tack a two-under-par 68 to a first-round 66 for an unbelievable front-running score of 134.

Nicklaus, his sun-bleached hair falling over his forehead, shot a look in the direction of Morgan and appeared to dissect him with one penetrating glance. Then he got up from the chair, turned and walked toward the exit.

Morgan watched the game's recognized sovereign disappear. No confrontation. Ships that pass in the night.

Such was the little drama that set the scene for the weekend showdown of the 58th clambake of the game's teaching and tournament. The question is: Can Nicklaus catch the cool doctor from Oklahoma? Can anybody catch him?

With the often temperamental and unpredictable Tom Weiskopf cooling off from his opening round of 65, Texan Tom Kite moved closest to Morgan with 66-72—138, four shots back.

Weiskopf, erratic with his irons, double-bogeyed the par-four sixth hole, which he eagled Thursday, for a 74 that placed him at 139 in a tie with veteran Don January, 70-69 and South Africa's Gary Player. Player holed out from one bunker and almost knocked down the pin from three others in salvaging a 69.

Trifecta Sets Mark At Scioto Downs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A record trifecta payoff of $13,577.70 was recorded at the Scioto Downs harness racing track Friday night. Three tickets were sold on the winning 10-1-5 combination.

In the featured race, Moonlight Music came on strong in the stretch for a 1 1/4-length victory and returned $14, $5.60 and $2.80. May paid $6.40 and $3.20 for second and Rocktown, $2.40 for show.

The 6-2 daily double combination of Ammo Star and Bohemian Time was worth $36.60.

Attendance was 6,386; handle was $385,616.

PP&K Contest Sponsored By Houseman

The 1976 Punt Pass and Kick competition will be sponsored again this year by Jim Houseman Ford in Circleville.

Nationally, PP&K is celebrating its 16th anniversary. It is sponsored by the Ford dealers of America in cooperation with the National Football League. Since it was started in 1961, the program has attracted more than 12 million youngsters and participation this year is expected to top the 1,200,000 mark.

Participants in the Punt Pass and Kick program compete only against others their own age. Any youngster eight through 13 years of age accompanied by a parent or guardian may register to compete at Houseman Ford. There is no entrance fee and no body contact during competition. No special equipment is needed and participating does not impair a youngster's amateur standing.

Scoring is based on accuracy and range with one point added for every foot of punting, passing and kicking distance and a point subtracted for every foot off a center line.

Twelve national finalists will compete for the National Championships in their age group during the halftime of an NFL Divisional playoff game in December. Winners will have their names permanently inscribed in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. Their trophies will be presented by Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Honor Pact, Auditor Told

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state 10th District Court of Appeals ordered the state auditor's office Thursday to honor the personal service contracts of 43 employees of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

The auditor's office had refused to issue pay warrants on the grounds that a contract requirement that the state and employees contribute to the Public Employees Retirement System (PERS) was unlawful.

However, the court found that the individuals involved are classified as public employees and are subject to PERS contributions.

The court also rejected a claim by the auditor's office that the contractual arrangement was made to circumvent the civil service laws, saying the EPA was "virtually forced" to use that system because the hirings were under a federal grant requiring the employment of persons who have been unemployed for 15 or more weeks.

Toledo City Manager Quits

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — City Manager James B. Daken is leaving his $33,000 per year job here for a similar post at Hartford, Conn., at $41,800 per year.

Daken announced Wednesday he has accepted the Hartford job, effective Oct. 4, but said money was not his principal reason for moving.

"But there is no question that a raise would have made the decision more difficult," Daken said.

When he was appointed city manager in 1971, Daken was 29 and considered one of the youngest major city officials in the United States.

Daken worked in city administration in his native Cincinnati before coming here.

Mayor Harry Kessler said he would like to name a new Toledo city manager by early October and would prefer that Daken's successor come from the current administration.

Toledo's population approaches 400,000; Hartford has about 145,000 residents.

Police Arrest Local Man

Circleville Police apprehended and arrested 18-year-old Thomas P. McNamara, 923 S. Washington St., for receiving and concealing stolen property.

The charge stems from the Aug. 10 theft of two General Electric radio heads and two speakers from the Basic Construction Company.

McNamara was identified as one of two men who left a brown paper sack containing the equipment on Margaret Ave. The items were recovered 4:51 p.m. Friday and he was arrested 6:08 p.m.

Two minors were charged with petit theft by shoplifting yesterday.

A girl was arrested for attempting to steal a pair of jeans, valued at $14.99, from The Other Place, and a boy was arrested for attempting to steal a package of cigarettes from the Kroger Store, Lancaster Pike Shopping Center.

Ruth Brown, 619 Elm Ave., was treated by the Circleville Emergency Medical Team for a wound to her forehead she suffered 3:29 p.m. Thursday in an argument.

She was apparently struck with a shoe.

Police Sgt. Jim Francis charged William Brown with assault and battery following his investigation of the incident.

Injury Accident Investigated

Circleville Police investigated an injury accident at 6:28 p.m. Friday.

According to the report, Rennie Brandstetter, 28, Columbus, was eastbound on Ohio Street and had started to make a left turn when her car was struck in the side by a car driven by Brian S. Landis, 21, 115 Town St.

Landis told police that when Ms. Brandstetter slowed he thought she was going to turn right, and had started to pass her on the left when the two cars collided.

Ms. Brandstetter complained of an injury to her leg and several small cuts to her left shoulder. She was referred to her family doctor for treatment.

IN THE LAKE — A jeep owned by Darbydale Fire Chief Albert Hawkins and a boat and trailer owned by Thomas O. Wilson, Darbydale, were fished from Deer Creek Reservoir about 3 p.m. Friday. Hawkins told Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Larry Kellenberger that he was preparing to put the boat into the water at the west boat ramp off Route 207. The jeep was apparently backed to the edge of the water, but slipped into the lake from a parked position because of slime on the ramp. Deputy Kellenberger summoned his diving companion, John Sanders, also a member of the Sheriff's Underwater Recovery Team. But, life guards from the beach attached a tow cable to the vehicle and boat to pull them from the water.

Say Libyan Leader Helped Hijacking

CAIRO (AP) — Egyptian President Anwar Sadat says Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy and a top radical Palestinian personally plotted the hijacking of a French airliner to Uganda in June, according to the Middle East News Agency.

"Khadafy paid the money and the weapons were smuggled to Athens in a Libyan diplomatic pouch and were given to the terrorists by the Libyan Embassy," Sadat was quoted saying in an agency report Friday.

The agency said Khadafy planned the hijacking with George Habash, head of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine. The PFLP has been implicated in numerous anti-Israeli hijackings and attacks, including one Wednesday night in which four people were killed and 20 others wounded in Istanbul.

The Air France jet was hijacked after leaving Tel Aviv and stopping in Athens, and was flown to Entebbe Airport outside the Ugandan capital. Israeli commandos rescued more than 100 hostages held by the hijackers July 4.

Israeli officials, anticipating retaliation for the commando raid, had asked other nations to increase their airport security before the Istanbul attack occurred. Turkish police said the two Palestinians who carried out the attack said they belonged to Habash's group and had traveled to Istanbul from Tripoli, Libya.

"It is regrettable that Khadafy's name is mentioned only in connection with cases of explosion and destruction," Sadat was quoted saying. "Our information is that his embassies throughout the world are veritable arsenals of weapons smuggled via diplomatic pouches."

Sadat's remarks were made before the Istanbul attack in an interview with the Kuwaiti newspaper Al Siassa and reported by the Middle East agency.

"I will not let Khadafy slip through my fingers this time," Sadat reportedly said twice in the interview.

Sadat was quoted as saying Khadafy ran four camps in which subversive elements were trained for attacks on Egypt, Sudan, Chad and Tunisia, all countries which border Libya. Egypt said this week it was reinforcing its troops along the Libyan border.

Sadat reportedly said he had warned the other three countries about these camps, "so they may take their precautions, especially since Soviet arms are flooding Libya." Egypt has said Libya has too many and too sophisticated Soviet weapons to be used only for self defense.

Grand Jury Dismissed

CINCINNATI (AP) — The special Hamilton County grand jury which returned indictments against convicted Cincinnati Police Chief Carl Goodin and eight other officers was officially relieved of its duties Friday by Hamilton County Prosecutor Simon L. Leis Jr.

The grand jury was called into session Nov. 10, 1975 to investigate allegations of police wrongdoing in an anonymous letter said to be composed by 16 members of the Cincinnati Police Division.

Goodin and suspended Vice Squad Lt. Richard K. Beyer were convicted of tampering with evidence and perjury before the grand jury in connection with money taken from two police officers who received outside pay from commercial radio stations for helicopter traffic reports.

A patrolman indicted with Goodin and Beyer was found innocent. No trial dates have been set for the other five indicted officers.

School Reform Chief Named

BOSTON (AP) — Mayor Kevin H. White has chosen Joseph M. Cronin, former state secretary of education, to head a task force on reform of the city's school system.

White formed the panel after a committee he appointed to study violence in the city pointed to an "unworkable relationship" between the School Committee and Superintendent Marion Fahey.

Cronin, now Illinois superintendent of education, wrote a study on Boston schools in 1970, recommending decentralization of the school department.

He was secretary of education under former Gov. Francis Sargent.

Cronin confirmed the appointment to the panel on Friday. He said the group's work would begin next week and would be completed quickly.

Other members of the panel are: Joshua Smith, dean of the school of education at City College of New York; David Seely, director of the Public Education Association in New York City, and Luvurn Cunningham, professor at the school of education at Ohio State University and its former dean.

Fund Raiser Quits To Keep New Job

HONOLULU (AP) — A Honolulu real estate developer whose work for the Republican party helped him win a "plum" government post says he's resigning as a fund raiser for President Ford to avoid a possible conflict of interest with his new job.

Hung Wai Ching, 71, a member of the Postal Service board of governors, said Friday that he has resigned as Ford's finance chairman in Hawaii and is also divesting himself of 1,000 shares in Aloha Airlines.

Aloha Airlines, an intrastate carrier, received $218,399 in 1975 for carrying mail. Ching's brother, Hung Wo Ching, is chairman of the airline's board of directors.

Ching was nominated for the postal board by his high school classmate, Sen. Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, the ranking member of the Senate postal committee. He was confirmed by the Senate without debate last week.

"It could be interpreted as a political appointment, since my name was sent to the President by Sen. Fong," Ching said. "But I certainly do not intend to let political considerations dictate my activities as a board member."

Ching said his nomination was also supported by Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii.

Fong, who supported legislation intended to remove politics from the Postal Service, said that politics counted in the Ching nomination.

"He has worked very hard for the party," said Fong. "That was one of the things I thought of, along with his other activities."

The Postal governors, whose members meet once a month. They are paid $10,000 a year plus $300 for every meeting they attend.

George B. Gould, staff director of the House Postal facilities subcommittee in Washington, said the governorships are "political plums."

"They fly here (Washington) once a month, meet for a few hours, pick up their paychecks and fly home again,"

Ohio Power Co.

To Close Plant

BRILLIANT, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Power Co. has announced it will close its 30-year-old Tidd Plant for environmental reasons.

The plants two generating units will close between Aug. 31 and Sept. 30, the company said.

Ned Williams, director of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, said Ohio Power agreed to close the plant rather than implement environmental controls.

An Ohio Power spokesman said it was economically not feasible to install new environmental equipment because of the age of Tidd Plant.

The company said all employees with more than six months' experience will be offered jobs within the company.

The Postal governors, whose members meet once a month. They are paid $10,000 a year plus $300 for every meeting they attend.

George B. Gould, staff director of the House Postal facilities subcommittee in Washington, said the governors are "political plums."

"They fly here (Washington) once a month, meet for a few hours, pick up their paychecks and fly home again," Gould said.

One of the stated goals of the postal reorganization was to remove politics from the mail service. Previously, members of Congress controlled appointments of postmasters in their districts. The job of postmaster general frequently was a reward that went to the president's campaign manager.

In a Senate speech on Aug. 30, 1970, Fong urged senate approval of the reorganization bill. He vowed that the bill would "eliminate politics from the Post Office Department as we have seen it operate." Since then, Fong has acknowledged selecting White House nominees to the board and the Postal Rate Commission.

Ohio Power Co. To Close Plant
BRILLIANT, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Power Co. has announced it will close its 30-year-old Tidd Plant for environmental reasons.

The plants two generating units will close between Aug. 31 and Sept. 30, the company said.

Ned Williams, director of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, said Ohio Power agreed to close the plant rather than implement environmental controls.

An Ohio Power spokesman said it was economically not feasible to install new environmental equipment because of the age of Tidd Plant.

The company said all employees with more than six months' experience will be offered jobs within the company.
